Overview of the Student Handbook

This handbook is prepared for the convenience of students. College of Coastal Georgia reserves the right to change its policies without notice. Although every effort is made to insure accuracy, in the case of any divergence from or conflict with the Bylaws of the Board of Regents, the official Bylaws of the Board of Regents shall prevail.

The statements set forth in this handbook are for informational purposes only and should not be construed as the basis of a contract between a student and this institution. While every effort will be made to insure accuracy of the material stated herein, College of Coastal Georgia reserves the right to change any provision listed in this handbook, including but not limited to academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to individual students. Every effort will be made to keep students advised of such changes. Information regarding academic requirements for graduation will be available in the offices of the Registrar, Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Director of the Camden Center. It is the responsibility of each student to keep apprised of current graduation requirements for a degree program in which he or she is enrolled.

Student Right to Know

College of Coastal Georgia publishes information regarding graduation rates and campus security in order to be in compliance with federal law. The College will publish this list, and it will be made available to students on the College website at: www.ccgga.edu/heoa.

The Campus Security Report (CSR) statistics are derived from incident reports initiated and maintained by the Campus Police Department. Data are compiled each calendar year, and the CSR is published and disseminated in January; interim reports may be published throughout the academic year. For brevity in the CSR, only those crimes recognized under the Student Right to Know Act are included. Incidents such as petty theft (the most prevalent on-campus criminal activity) and other less serious offenses are not enumerated. Visit www.ccgga.edu/about/offices/publicsafety for more information.

The graduation/completion rate of new full-time students who are seeking a degree or certificate and the percent of students who complete the requirements for a degree or a certificate within a designated time will be published by the College and made available to students before they incur any financial obligation with the College. A similar graduation/ completion rate of full-time students who participate in intercollegiate athletics will also be published by the College. These statistics will also be made available to students before they incur any financial obligation with the College. These statistics will be presented by gender and by ethnic origin. The College will publish these statistics on or about July 1 of each year. Visit www.ccgga.edu/heoa for more information.

Introduction

A statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities stands as the philosophical foundation for the Code of Conduct at College of Coastal Georgia. This statement recognizes that students have both rights and responsibilities that are protected as members of the college community and as citizens. The Code of Conduct can be accessed online at www.ccgga.edu/studentconduct.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Students are not only members of the academic community but are also members of the larger society. Students, therefore, retain the rights, guarantees and protections afforded to, and the responsibilities held by, all citizens. A student is not immune to prosecution by local, state, or federal law enforcement agencies irrespective of whether the College initiates judicial proceedings in a given situation. As members of the College community, students have a responsibility to know and follow the College conduct regulations. Violations of these regulations will result in action by the Dean of Students. As would be expected, standards for CCGA students are higher than those of communities not engaged solely in scholarly pursuits. Not every situation a student may encounter can be anticipated in a written document. Therefore, students are expected to act in a manner that demonstrates integrity and respect for others and the campus environment.

College of Coastal Georgia attempts to provide equal opportunity to all students and applicants for admission without regard to race, creed, color, gender, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, or handicap. The College does not discriminate against any student or applicant in regard to any position for which the student is qualified. For those with physical or mental limitations, the College will provide reasonable accommodations. Students who have special needs should contact the Office of Disability Services, Campus Center (912-279-5806) to discuss their concerns and needs. Any student who believes that he or she has been discriminated against because of race, creed, color, gender, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, veteran or handicapped status is encouraged to let appropriate authorities at the College know of this treatment or contact the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs & Enrollment Management (912 -279-5802) or the Office of Diversity & Inclusion (912-279-280-7778). If the student chooses, he or she may file a grievance through the channels outlined in the College's Harassment and Discrimination policy. The Office of Diversity & Inclusion can support students in this process. (Update: December 2021)

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (Updated: August 2024. Also found @ <https://www.ccgga.edu/heoa/family-educational-rights-and-privacy-act/>)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) afford students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the College receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate. Students may ask the College to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate. They should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the College decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the College will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel); a person or company with whom the College has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.
4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College of Coastal Georgia to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue, SW Washington, DC 20202-5920.

As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expanded the circumstances under which your education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records including your Social Security Number, grades, or other private information may be accessed without your consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the 51 U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities (Federal and State Authorities) may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program that is principally engaged in the provision of education, such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution. Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when we object to or do not request such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the Authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile permanently retain, and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

Directory information, which is information that is generally not considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if released, can also be disclosed to outside organizations without a student's prior written consent. If you do not want CCGA to disclose directory information without your prior written consent, you must notify the College in writing. CCGA has designated the following information as directory information: student's name; participation in officially recognized activities and sports; address; telephone listing; weight and height of members of athletic teams; electronic mail address; photograph; degrees, honors, and awards received; date and place of birth; major field of study; dates of attendance; grade level; the most recent educational agency or institution attended.

For more information about the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act, contact the Office of the Registrar at (912) 279-5738.

2. Disciplinary Records. A student's disciplinary record shall be kept in the Office of Student Affairs separate from academic records. It will remain confidential unless the student consents in writing to have it revealed. However, the vice president and dean of students may disclose the student's disciplinary record without the student's consent if legal compulsion or the safety of people or property is involved, or if the information is required by authorized College personnel for official use at the College. In these circumstances, only the information pertinent to the inquiry may be revealed. The vice president may also act without the student's consent to have a "hold" entered on the student's academic record file for the time that suspension or dismissal would prohibit the student from registering.
3. Academic Records. A student's test data and academic record in the office of admissions office of the registrar shall be kept in secure files, separate and confidential, unless the student consents in writing to have it revealed to a designated person and for a designated purpose. However, by attending College of Coastal Georgia the student is giving permission for the distribution and use of his test data and all other academic records as the vice president for academic affairs deems necessary to accomplish the duties of his office as contained in the College Statutes. Without such release, no information will be revealed except to an appropriate authority and then only when there is a clear and imminent danger to an individual or to society, and such information will be limited to that which is directly pertinent to the reduction of that danger.
4. Student Health Services Record. Student Health Services medical, surgical and mental health records and information are strictly confidential and are not to be released to anyone without the student's knowledge and signed authorization. Student mental health records are maintained separately in a confidential file. If it becomes apparent in the course of treatment that the student is likely to cause injury to himself or others, pertinent information to this extent may be revealed for protection of the student or others.
5. Vice President and Dean of Students records. Official records and information maintained by the vice president and dean of students are treated in a confidential manner. A student has the right to view his disciplinary records. Discipline and judicial records and the information contained therein will not be released except with the written consent of the student or as required by law. General information, such as the student's address, phone number, university classification, etc. is released upon receipt of a specific request, unless the student has requested that this "directory information" remain private. Requests for personal information such as date of birth, parents' names and addresses, social security numbers, etc. will be released on a show cause basis only. The vice president and dean of students are responsible for seeing that proper justification has been made.
6. Evaluation of Student Character and Ability. A student's character and ability shall be evaluated only by those with personal knowledge of the student. Records containing such evaluations shall indicate when the information was acquired, by whom, and the position of the individual. Upon a student's request to an individual faculty member or administrator, that student should be informed of all inquiries about that student directed to the faculty member or administrator and that judgments have been or will be given.

7. Subpoenaed Information. If presented with a subpoena to produce information about specific students and/or campus organizations, the recipient shall immediately notify the vice president and dean of students and forward to that office a copy of the subpoena. The vice president and dean of students shall immediately notify the students or student organizations involved, or use his/her best efforts to do so, and forward to them a copy of the subpoena by certified mail addressed to their last known address.
8. Non-Academic Information. Information about a student or a student organization's political or social views or beliefs which faculty, staff, or administrators acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisors, counselors, or supervisors is to be kept confidential, unless the student applies for a position that federal law requires the surrender of the right to withhold information from their representatives. Students may waive this protection by granting express permission to the relevant faculty, staff or administrator.

Student Grievance/Complaint (Non-Grade/Non-Harassment Related) Process (Updated: June 2021)

To submit a grievance/complaint online, please click HERE.

The College of Coastal Georgia is committed to maintaining an environment in which issues are addressed in a fair manner. There are times in which students have a grievance, complaint, or issue with another student, a faculty member, or a College staff member which is of a non-grade/non-harassment related nature. These grievances could include issues of intellectual diversity (when someone feels they have been treated unfairly by the institution because of their ideas or opinions on a specific issue). It is recommended in these situations that student follow these informal procedures:

1. In a situation where it is a grievance or complaint with a fellow student, students are encouraged to meet with the Vice President of Student Affairs & Enrollment Management or designee. The Vice President or designee will investigate the situation and assist the students involved in resolving the problem or grievance in a collaborative manner.
2. In a situation where it is a grievance or complaint with a faculty or College staff member, students are encouraged to meet one-on-one with the person with whom they have a complaint or issue in order to discuss the issue openly. If this does not resolve the situation, students should meet with the immediate supervisor or supervisors of the college personnel with whom they have the complaint or grievance. If the situation still is not resolved, students are encouraged to meet with the Senior Administrator in the employee's chain of command.
3. If this informal process does not resolve the issue, students are encouraged to consider using the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Program. This program may provide mediation as an option to the parties involved at no cost to the student.
 - Alternative Dispute Resolution, commonly referred to as ADR, involves using one or more dispute resolution processes as an alternative to the traditional appeals and grievance processes. Alternative methods of dispute resolution may include one or more of the following:
 - frank and open discussion between the parties to dispel any miscommunication which may have occurred;
 - determining the "issues" to be resolved and negotiating with each other to reach an acceptable conclusion;
 - or participating in a mediation session with an objective third party. The third option, mediation, has been highly successful in the corporate world and is becoming much more widely used in educational settings.

ADR is an appropriate process to use regarding issues of intellectual diversity (when someone feels they have been treated unfairly by an instructor because of their ideas or opinions on a specific issue).

Mediation is a voluntary process in which an impartial third party facilitates communication and negotiation between the disputing parties in order to reach a mutually acceptable agreement. The mediator has no firsthand knowledge of the problem nor any preconceived ideas of how the dispute should be settled. The mediator does not maintain a record of the session—the only written document is the negotiated agreement which is given to both parties.

For more information about exercising the ADR process or about the College's Student Grievance/Complaint (Non-Grade/Non-Harassment Related) Process, contact the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs & Enrollment Management.

Class Attendance

Attending class and being on time for class sessions is an important part of your success in the classroom. Attendance requirements may vary based on the needs of the course, the method of instruction or the instructor. The attendance policies are set by the academic school in which the course resides and will be included in the course syllabus, including any penalties will be distributed in writing or via D2L to students by the instructor at the beginning of each semester including any penalties that may result from excessive absences or tardiness. When students are required to be absent from class for approved college activities, the student must assume responsibility for making up any missed work (Update September 2020 from <https://www.ccgga.edu/academics/current-catalog>)

All students registered with the Office of Accessibility Services are expected to attend all lecture, laboratory sessions and field experiences in courses for which they are registered. The Office of Accessibility Services does not issue any excuses for absences and cannot require any professor to alter his or her attendance policy. While consideration of absences may be requested in an accommodation letter at the beginning of each semester in some cases, students encountering accessibility-related attendance issues should make an appointment with the Office of Accessibility Services and their instructors as quickly as possible. For more information on services provided by the Office of Accessibility Services, please visit <https://www.ccgga.edu/campuslife/healthcenter/accessibilityservices/>.

Cell Phone and Other Personal Electronic Devices

The carrying and use of cell phones, pagers, and other personal electronic devices are allowed in the CCGA Brunswick and Camden Center. Users of these devices, however, must be attentive to the needs, sensibilities, and rights of other members of the College community. Furthermore, the use of these devices must not disrupt the functions of the College overall and its classrooms and labs. Students participating in off-campus course related activities must follow the electronic devices policies of the agency or organizations where they are visiting or working.

Cell Phones, pagers, other personal electronic devices must be off and out of sight in classrooms, laboratories, the library, study spaces and other academic settings and during such events as plays, concerts, lectures and College ceremonies. The term "laboratories" includes computer labs. These electronic devices may be turned on and set on silent mode only with the expressed consent of the instructor. In addition, cell phones and other personal electronic devices incorporating a camera must be turned off and out of sight in any area in which an individual has a reasonable expectation of privacy such as restrooms, locker rooms, showers and other locations.

Beyond the basic College policy stated herein, faculty members, at their discretion, also may have strict individual policies related to cell phones, pagers, and other personal electronic devices outlined in their syllabi in order to provide and maintain a classroom environment that is conducive to learning and the respect of others. These policies may include penalties for violation. If cell phones, pagers, calculators, recorders, digital cameras, PDA's, MP3 players or other personal electronic devices are used inappropriately for the purposes of cheating or academic dishonesty, then the students who do so will be penalized appropriately under the Academic Honesty policy of College of Coastal Georgia.

Facilities Usage Policies (Updated: August 2022)

No student shall make unauthorized entry into any College building, office, or other facility, nor shall any person remain without authorization in any building after normal closing hours. Certain rooms on campus are available in which students may enjoy a snack. However, where designated, eating and/or drinking are prohibited. Facilities policies and guidelines may be accessed through the student organization handbook at: www.ccg.edu/StudentLife and below:

- Room reservations for student organizations can be made by contacting the Assistant Dean of Student Life whose office is located on the second floor of the Campus Center.
- Faculty and Staff requesting space should contact their department coordinator to reserve the space.

The following University System of Georgia Policies apply to use of Institutional Facilities and Property:

6.14 Use of Institutional Facilities/Property

The policy of the Board regarding the use of institutional facilities/property shall be as follows.

6.14.1 In Political Campaigns

The President of each University System of Georgia (USG) institution may authorize the use of institution facilities for political speeches; however, such use shall be limited to meetings sponsored by recognized organizations of the institution and shall be held only at places designated by the President.

The use of USG materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, or vehicles in political campaigns is forbidden.

6.14.2 By Unaffiliated Outside Parties

An outside party may request permission to use a USG institution facility for an event that is not contrary to the mission of the institution; however, in such instances, the President of the institution shall require the completion of a USG-approved license agreement, including a properly executed indemnification and liability insurance agreement unless said outside party is constitutionally prohibited from doing so. (Update August 2022).

Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom Policy (Updated June 2023)

Freedom of Expression

The College of Coastal Georgia (College) values and encourages the right of all members of its community to exercise freedom of speech, the right to the free exercise of religion, and the right to assemble peaceably as guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution and the Georgia Constitution. The College vigorously protects these freedoms. As an institution dedicated to training and educating the future leaders of the state and nation, and in a spirit of establishing and maintaining a “marketplace of ideas,” the College supports the right of all members of its campus community to discuss varying perspectives on complex issues. This is often known as intellectual diversity. The College fosters an environment where all members are free to share ideas and opinions, even those that some may find offensive. Ideas and opinions should be openly and freely debated and discussed, both inside and outside of the classroom, without fear of suppression or reprisal. The College promotes intellectual debates, not close them off, and uphold the values of civility and mutual respect while doing so.

While narrow restrictions to freedom of speech will apply for expression that violates the law, University System of Georgia, or College policies, freedom of expression protections are broad. Any necessary limitations will be enforced by the University System of Georgia or the College’s administration. Individual members of the College community shall not attempt to prevent or otherwise interfere with the free expression of others, no matter how objectionable they may find the expressed ideas or opinions.

All College students, faculty, staff, their recognized groups, and non-College affiliated persons, groups, organizations and entities sponsored by a recognized College group may exercise their freedoms of expression on the College’s campuses as set forth in this policy. Public speeches and assemblies can be valid means of expression for dissenting opinions provided they do not disrupt the academic and administrative functioning of the College. Therefore, while protecting and promoting the freedoms of expression, the College maintains its right to impose reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions on those activities in order to serve the interest of public health and safety, prevent disruption of the educational process, and protect against the invasion of the rights of others. By placing reasonable limitations on time, place, and manner of expression, the College does not take a position on the content or viewpoint of the expression, but rather allows for a diversity of viewpoints to be expressed in an academic setting.

Academic Freedom

As a public system of higher education, the College is committed to protecting the academic freedom rights of faculty and students in teaching, research, publishing, and other academic activities. The College vigorously promote the open exchange of ideas and protect academic freedom. The College values diversity of intellectual thought and expression for all. While faculty and students must be encouraged to exercise their rights to academic freedom, they must also understand that, along with those rights comes the responsibility to respect the individuality and beliefs of all.

Members of the College community should always seek to foster and defend intellectual honesty, freedom of inquiry, and instruction on and off campus. Academic freedom is a bedrock of higher education, but it is not unlimited. Faculty academic freedom extends only to classroom material and discussions, research, publications, and other academic activities that are germane to the subject matter being taught, researched, written about, or presented. Faculty members must be careful not to introduce into their teaching controversial matters that have no relation to their subject.

Students should be provided an environment conducive to learning, be free from faculty or institutional coercion to make personal political or social choices, and be evaluated based on their academic performance, not factors that are irrelevant to that performance such as their personal beliefs. Similarly, faculty and staff have the right to be unburdened by irrelevant factors such as ideological tests, affirmations, and oaths, and should instead be hired and evaluated based on relevant factors such as their achievement and the success of students.

Finally, faculty hold a special position in the community that carries both privileges and obligations. Because faculty are scholars and educators, the public may judge their profession and the College by their utterances. Therefore, faculty should always strive to be accurate, exercise appropriate restraint, show respect for the opinions of others, and make every effort when they are expressing their personal opinions to indicate that they are speaking for themselves as private citizens rather than on behalf of their institutions.

This commitment to protecting the academic freedom rights of all faculty and students, as well as ensuring that all faculty and students respect the academic freedom rights of others, is crucial to the University System of Georgia and the College's mission of providing the best educational opportunities to all Georgians.

The complete Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom Policy is located at <https://portside.ccgga.edu/policies/displayPolicy.php?pid=49>.

For more information about the Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom policy or to learn more about hate speech, contact the Office of the Dean of Students at (912) 279-5815. (Update June 2023).

Temporary Leave of Absence for Students (Updated March 2023)

It is highly recommended that students inform their instructors of any anticipated absences from classes as soon as possible, preferably in advance. This will allow instructors to be informed and to work with students to establish a plan and timeline for completing any missed coursework where applicable. Additionally, students should review the Class Attendance Policy and the course syllabi to gain a better understanding of class attendance expectations and requirements for make-up work.

Critical and Emergency Situations:

There are a variety of unforeseen events or circumstances that may constitute emergencies and result in a student's absence from class. Examples include, but are not limited to, hospitalizations, family deaths, life-threatening issues, safety-related concerns, terminal illnesses, complications related to pregnancy or parenting, interpersonal violence, natural disasters, crime victimization, and accidents. If such situations arise, students should contact the Dean of Students' office to assist students in providing support services and notifying the relevant College staff and faculty.

Non-emergency Situations:

Examples of situations that may not be considered emergencies include, but are not limited to, doctor's appointments, illnesses such as colds, flu, allergies, nausea, staph infection, strep throat, mono, headaches, sprains or falls, inclement weather, relationship conflicts, roommate conflicts, and family member acute illness. While students have the option to inform their instructors and provide relevant medical documentation, some may prefer not to disclose such information to all instructors. In such cases, documentation may be submitted to the Dean of Students' office, who will coordinate with Academic Affairs to review and to determine the notification process to instructors.

Students may contact the Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs/Dean of Students, and Title IX Coordinator, Dr. Michael Butcher, at mbutcher@ccga.edu and 912-279-5815.

Please note that frequent or prolonged absences from class can hinder a student's ability to perform well academically. Therefore, students who anticipate repeated absences due to an ongoing medical condition are encouraged to contact Accessibility Services for possible accommodations.

Immunizations & Health Insurance

It is the policy of the Student Health Center to comply with the mandatory immunization program established by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. These requirements include documented proof of immunity to Measles Mumps, Rubella (MMR), Tetanus, Varicella (chicken pox) or history of disease, and Hepatitis B prior to registration at any college or university within the University System. If you plan to live on campus, it is recommended you receive the Meningitis vaccine. For more information please visit <https://www.ccgga.edu/campuslife/healthcenter/studenthealthcenter/>.

Basic health services are available at no cost to currently enrolled students. Please visit <https://www.ccgga.edu/campuslife/healthcenter/studenthealthcenter/> for more information. Referrals for services not available in the Student Health Center are based upon the student's health insurance policy. Student health insurance is available to all University System of Georgia students. For more information on the student health insurance program please visit <https://www.ccgga.edu/campuslife/healthcenter/studenthealthcenter/>.

Student Complaints (Updated September 2021)

If a student has a complaint which is not specifically addressed in the College Catalog, Student Handbook, or Student Code of Conduct, he or she may submit the grievance/complaint online by completing THIS FORM. The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management, or designee, will walk the student through the complaint resolution process which, depending on the severity of the complaint, may follow this model:

1. The written complaint will be shared with the department head / supervisor who has responsibility for the area of concern. The department head / supervisor or designee will investigate the complaint, act if necessary, and respond to the student in writing within a reasonable timeframe.
2. If the student is not satisfied with the resolution, he or she may appeal in writing to that individual's immediate supervisor within five (5) business days. A decision on the appeal will be issued by the supervisor within a reasonable timeframe.
3. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the appeal, he or she may appeal the second decision in writing to the next level supervisor within five (5) business days of receiving the second decision.
4. Appeals may be filed through the administrative levels of the institution to the President of the College. The aforementioned process and timelines will apply. The decision of the President will be the final decision of the College. Should the student wish to appeal the President's decision, he or she may request review by the Board of Regents in accordance with the Board of Regents' Policy on Discretionary Review.

In certain circumstances, students may also request mediation to resolve disputes with other students, faculty, and staff, as described in the College's Alternative Dispute Resolution Policy. Students may also utilize the SGA Executive Cabinet for concerns related to campus that impact the entire campus community.

Organization Registration & Classification

Organizations which may be registered to operate on campus include the following: (a) honors and leadership organizations and recognition societies; (b) departmental organizations; (c) special interest groups (political, service, religious, athletic, etc.). Registration of a student organization by the College shall neither constitute nor be construed as approval or endorsement by College of Coastal Georgia of the purposes or objectives of the organization.

Rights of Student Organizations

Students and student organizations are not only members of the academic community but are also members of the larger society. Students, therefore, retain the rights, guarantees and protections afforded to and the responsibilities held by all citizens. A student is not immune to prosecution by local, state, or federal law enforcement agencies irrespective of whether the College initiates judicial proceedings in a given situation. As members of the College community, students have a responsibility to know and follow the College conduct regulations. Violations of these regulations will result in action by the Dean of Students. As would be expected, standards for CCGA students and student organizations are higher than those of communities not engaged solely in scholarly pursuits. Not every situation a student or student organization may encounter can be anticipated in a written document. Therefore, students and student organizations are expected to act in a manner that demonstrates integrity and respect for others and the campus environment. To access the CCGA Student Code of Conduct, visit: www.ccg.edu/studentconduct.

Steps to Create a New Student Organization

Students may form an organization whose purpose and proposed activities are clearly related to the goals and mission of the college. Students seeking recognition for an organization should contact the Office of Student Life for information on the registration process.

Student Organization GPA Requirement

Registered student organizations will have a minimum grade point average requirement of 2.0 for executive members (officers) as verified by their most recent semester GPA (not cumulative or institutional). More information about the Student Organization GPA requirement may be found in the Student Organization Handbook available in the Office of Student Life.

Procedures for Annual Re-Registration

Student organization advisors and contacts will receive information regarding the re-registration process no later than August 1 each year prior to the beginning of fall semester. Advisors are expected to consult with organization leadership to complete the re-registration forms, which include current contact information for organization leadership and advisor. Organizations should complete the process on or before the established deadline.

Changes to Constitution/Local Charter

When student organizations update their constitution or charter (for nationally-affiliated organizations), a copy of the current constitution/charter should be supplied to the Office of Student Life. Once these changes are received by the office, official approval is obtained from the Student Affairs Council.

Advisors

For a faculty or staff member, advising a student organization is a great way to connect with students who have a similar passion or area of interest. Potential advisors should be aware of the time commitment and dedication it takes to fully support a student organization. If a staff or faculty member would like to become an advisor to a student organization, please contact the Office of Student Life.

Financial Responsibility

Financial responsibility is critical when operating a student organization. While the Office of Student Life will keep track of organization budgets, organizations must also keep a detailed account of all financial transactions. Organizations and advisors should be familiar with all USG and CCGA policies regarding state and institutional funds (refer to the Student Organization Handbook or USG Business Procedures Manual for more information).

Fundraising

The campus fundraising policy may be accessed at:

<https://fishnet.ccgga.edu/policies/displayPolicy.php?pid=32>.

Hazing

The College does not condone hazing in any form. Hazing is defined as any intentional, negligent or reckless action, activity or situation that causes another pain, embarrassment, ridicule or harassment, regardless of the individual's willingness to participate. Such actions and situations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Forcing or requiring the drinking of alcohol or any other substance;
- Forcing or requiring the consumption of food or any other substance;

Organization Disciplinary Process

In addition to CCGA policies, the following University System of Georgia policies pertain to student organizations:

4.6.1 Withdrawal of Recognition of Student Organizations

The Board of Regents has determined that the use of marijuana, controlled substances, or other illegal or dangerous drugs constitutes a serious threat to the public health, welfare, and academic achievement of students enrolled in the USG. Therefore, all student organizations, including but not limited to societies, fraternities, sororities, clubs, and similar groups of students which are affiliated with, recognized by, or which use the facilities under the jurisdiction of USG institutions, are hereby charged with the responsibility of enforcing compliance with local, state and federal laws by all persons attending or participating in their respective functions and affairs, social or otherwise.

As provided by the Student Organization Responsibility for Drug Abuse Act, any such student organization which, through its officers, agents, or responsible members, knowingly permits, authorizes, or condones the manufacture, sale, distribution, possession, serving, consumption or use of marijuana, controlled substances, or other illegal or dangerous drugs at any affair, function, or activity of such student organization, social or otherwise, is hereby declared to be in violation of the laws of this state and shall have its recognition as a student organization withdrawn and, after complying with the constitutional requirements of due process, shall be expelled from the campus for a minimum of one (1) calendar year from the date of determination of guilt.

Such organization shall also be prohibited from using any property or facilities of the institution for a period of at least one (1) year. Any lease, rental agreement, or other document between the Board of Regents or the institution and the student organization that relates to the use of the property leased, rented, or occupied shall be terminated for knowingly having permitted or authorized the unlawful actions described above.

All sanctions imposed by this policy shall be subject to review procedures authorized by the Board of Regents Policy 6.26 Application for Discretionary Review. (BoR Minutes, February 2015)

An appeal to the Board of Regents shall not defer the effective date of the adverse action against the student organization pending the Board's review unless the Board so directs. Any such stay or suspension by the Board shall expire as of the date of the Board's final decision on the matter. (BoR Minutes, 1989-90, p. 384)

This Policy amendment is intended to implement The Student Organization Responsibility for Drug Abuse Act of 1990. (Update September 2021).
